A Final request

Fulfest has always been an event for the families and friends of the village. We are proud of the relaxed nature of the day but have two requests: could parents please ensure that their children are not causing any concerns for residents around the green and the "bike no go areas" are adhered to; and that all rubbish is either put in the bins provided or taken home. Thank you for your anticipated cooperation in these matters.

Thanks

ROAD CLOSURES

Please note that for the period of the festival the roads directly around The Green will be closed for the safety of the audience. This is a legal document that shuts the roads to all vehicles (resident and non resident) from 1:00pm to 10:00pm. A diversion will be set up using Tudor Hollow. Thank you for your cooperation in this matter.

Order of events

1:00pm & 1:30pm AFRICAN DRUMMING WORKSHOP

led by LESLEY MORAN

Open to everyone these two African drumming workshops will give an opportunity for you to learn how to play authentic Djembe drums from West Africa. This will be for absolute beginners and involve 'skin on skin' drumming techniques i.e. no sticks or beaters. Great fun for all ages, just turn up and have a go! There are places for 20 aspiring drummers in each workshop.

The Afternoon Programme:

2:00pm FULFORD COMMUNITY CHOIR

director DAN HOLLINGSHURST

Your community choir will entertain with songs from films, shows and around the world.

2:30pm BHANGRA DANCING

A first for Fulfest, Vakhri Punjabans are the only gidha and bhangra dance group in Stoke On Trent and will bring their own unique style to promote Punjabi culture, a spectacle not to be missed!

2:50pm TAKE FOUR

After a break of three years we welcome back Take Four, a string quartet of Staffordshire musicians. They will entertain us with music ranging from Bach to Bacharach.

3.20 TOM AND HANNAH

Now at University, Tom Cannon and Hannah Salt performed together regularly when at Blythe Bridge High School and have a programme of modern covers and old standards for you to sit back and enjoy.

3:40pm BHANGRA DANCING

4:00pm AFRICAN DRUMMING

This is a chance to hear a brief performance on 20 Djembe drums from some of the volunteers who took part in the workshops.

4:15pm FOLKUS POCUS

DAN AND CAROLINE HOLLINGSHURST

'One of the hottest folk dance bands in the UK' so say Country Dance and Song Society of America. So we are in for a real treat— the music ranges from traditional 17th century English dance music to driving jigs and reels more commonly found at a ceilidh. Could be the first sign of those Fulford dancing feet!!

4:45pm BEAR WITHERS

One of our regulars Steve is this time part of a band, and this five piece play a wide range of covers to keep the mood going....

5:15pm KISS THE BLARNEY

Back by popular demand after a great performance at last year's Fulfest, Kiss the Blarney will bring the afternoon concert to a close with some toe tapping Irish music and beautiful Irish melodies.

The Evening Concert:

6:30pm STAFFORDSHIRE MOORLANDS YOUTH JAZZ ORCHESTRA

vocalist EMILY MOONEY

Fulfest wouldn't be Fulfest without SMYJO who will be playing a mixture of big band classics and other well-known numbers arranged for this type of ensemble.

7:30pm BARRELHOUSE JUKES

We welcome this Staffordshire and Cheshire based acoustic blues and roots band for their debut at Fulfest. We are looking forward to enjoying their unique twist on classic blues and roots covers.

8:30pm ELVIS

Who said the King was Dead... not in our village! FULFEST '15 comes to a close with our own favourite Elvis, Mark Clay. Put on those blue suede shoes and sing and dance the night away. Here's to Fulfest '16!

PLEA FOR SUPPORT

Please note that this village festival can only run through the generous nature of the various musicians, the support of the Shoulder Of Mutton and the fund raising efforts of the Fulford Village Group. We need your donations to continue to run this event so please contribute something in appreciation of the effort of so many. Thank You.
